From the Chairperson's Desk

Dearest Professional Colleagues,

Hearliest greetings and congratulations to each of you on the occasion of the 78th Foundation Day of our beloved Institute!

CA Day is a proud moment to celebrate the integrity, independence, and excellence that form the bedrock of our profession and our collective achievements. Over the decades, we have stood tall through sweeping regulatory changes, economic upheavals, and technological disruptions, evolving seamlessly from bookkeepers to auditors, from tax advisors to boardroom strategists, and today, to AI-enabled partners in nation-building.

CA G.P. Kapadia, First President, ICAI, in his book History of Accountancy Profession in India, wrote:

“The Chartered Accountant is a person on whom every section of society could rely strongly. His certificate would be a seal and a hallmark that would at once inspire confidence in the minds of all concerned...In performing any duty, the Chartered Accountant would have to think not only of the interests he is serving, but also of the general interest he is expected to serve in his relation to society.”

These words, spoken at the very dawn of our profession, resonate with the same force today.

The responsibility he envisioned for us has not diminished, if anything, it has grown. Society’s reliance on us for truth, for transparency, for counsel in complexity is greater than ever, and we shoulder that responsibility with the same commitment and pride.

Our emblem, Garuda, the king of birds, soars effortlessly above the clouds, commanding a view that no earthly creature can match. It is a powerful and apt metaphor for what we must be: far-sighted, fearless, and unwavering. The motto enshrined alongside it “Ya Aeshu Suptaeshu Jagruti” one who is awake among those who sleep reminds us that vigilance is not an option, but a calling. We are the conscience of commerce, the guardians of public trust.

This year carries yet another cause for pride and celebration. The Bengaluru Branch steps into its 65th year of existence, a milestone that speaks volumes about the dedication, vision, and tireless service of every member who has contributed to its journey. From a modest beginning to one of the most vibrant branches of ICAI, Bengaluru has mirrored the very spirit of our profession: dynamic, principled, and always growing.

At this significant juncture, I bow in deep gratitude to all the leaders, experts and stalwarts of our profession, past and present, whose commendable efforts and quiet sacrifices built the legacy we are privileged to inherit. A legacy of trust, integrity, and service, not just to our clients, but to the nation.

The Bengaluru Branch bustled with a wide range of activities through June, each reflecting a different facet of our profession's richness and vitality.

The month opened with an innovative panel discussion on mandatory CPE topics - Code of Ethics, Digital Accounting, and Standards on Auditing, delivered through case vignettes that brought out the deep interconnections among these critical subjects. Members warmly appreciated this refreshing departure from conventional delivery, and it set the tone for an exceptionally active month.

For those who believe that learning is best experienced beyond four walls, The Voyage of Knowledge, RRC on Cruise from Mumbai to Goa was a truly unique offering. Around 83 members including the families came aboard for this luxurious cruise experience, not just to learn, but to connect, bond, and soak in the tranquillity of the open sea. It was professional enrichment wrapped in the serenity of the ocean.

We also held a one-day training program for Peer Reviewers, with around 70 members taking up the training. The Peer Reviewer role is critical to the quality of our profession and offers members, particularly those building their practice or seeking a steady engagement, an excellent avenue of professional contribution and income.

Under the ongoing series "From Bill to Practice: New Income Tax Act 2025", the study circle meeting on Capital Gains under the Income Tax Act, 2025 was organised on 24th June 2026, drawing an impressive participation of 84 members.

In the spirit of service and outreach, the Branch conducted an Interactive and Outreach Program on GSTAT Appeal Procedures, in association with KSCAA and ITPA. We were privileged to have Smt. Nagarathna, Vice President, GSTAT, Bengaluru, along with all the esteemed members of the Bench.

The session was enriching and engaging, equipping members with deeper practical insights into GST appellate procedures.

The International Yoga Day on 21st June 2026 was celebrated at the Branch in association with the Art of Living. The session guided members through Suryanamaskars, asanas, breathing exercises, and meditation, a blissful alignment of body and mind that reminded us that a grounded professional is as important as a learned one.

The International MSME Day was commemorated with a half-day seminar on MSMEs and Startups - the power engines of the Indian economy. The seminar deliberated on the significance of MSMEs, the ecosystem of support available to them, and the pivotal role CAs play in nurturing these enterprises.

And the most exhilarating event of the month was the CA Run! Being a runner myself, organising a run for CAs to celebrate CA Day was a personal milestone. The enthusiasm and participation of members was truly overwhelming, a joyful reminder that CAs are not just conscience keepers of the economy, but deeply conscious of their own health and wellbeing too.

Through this newsletter, I warmly invite each of you to participate in the various activities planned to celebrate CA Day, truly a Day of CAs, for the CAs, and by the CAs. Come, be a part of the celebration, and let us mark this milestone together with the pride and joy it deserves.

As Martin Luther King Jr. said, "We are not makers of history. We are made by history." The history of ICAI, built brick by brick by every member, has made us who we are. Let us honour that history by writing its finest chapters yet.

Wishing all of you a Happy 78th Chartered Accountants' Day and here's to many more glorious years!

Jai Hind! Jai ICAI

Yours in service,

Dear Members of the CA Fraternity,

Warm greetings on the 78th CA Day.

On this occasion, I write to my professional brothers and sisters with immense pride and deep satisfaction. Our profession's journey has been demanding, yet it has distinguished itself and emerged as a beacon for the world. This long, successful, and resilient journey has been possible because of the trust and support of policymakers, society, businesses, and regulators, who have placed their confidence in our education, ethos, discipline, and training.

I am proud to have benefited from the values and ethos of this profession. It has instilled in me discipline, practical training, and the ability to make sound decisions amid real-world business complexities and geopolitical uncertainties, guided by common sense. As rightly said, common sense is uncommon; this profession teaches us to begin with it and move confidently toward even the most complex challenges.

With humility, we recognize that there are still miles to go before we rest. An uncertain future calls on us to strengthen our abilities through vision, innovation, and sound professional judgment. The world looks to us with hope and trust, and I am confident that, across borders, the CA profession will be recognized as a leading change agent for a better future.

On this day, I bow in gratitude to the professional leaders who have elevated this large and accomplished CA fraternity to its present stature. I am equally confident that its future rests with bright young professionals, who will take it to even greater heights in the years ahead.

I wish you all enormous success. Jay Hind !

CA Day Greetings

Adv CA M. R. Venkatesh

Dear Chairman, Office Bearers and Esteemed Members of the Bangalore Branch of the ICAI,

On the joyous occasion of CA Day, I extend my warm greetings and heartfelt congratulations to the Bangalore Branch of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. As we fondly celebrate the CA Day - the day on which our Alma Mater was established, it is an occasion to reaffirm our commitment to integrity, excellence and service to society.

This day also gives me an opportunity to fondly reminisce about my long and enriching association with the Bangalore Branch. Over the years, I have had the privilege of being invited by the Branch on several occasions to address members on subjects of professional relevance. Each of those interactions has been intellectually stimulating and immensely rewarding.

These exchanges have not only enriched the deliberations during the programmes but have also contributed significantly to my own professional growth. I can sincerely say, without any fear of contradiction, that I have benefited as much from those interactions as, I hope, the participants have benefited from my presentations.

I congratulate the Branch for its consistent efforts in promoting overall professional excellence. May the Bangalore Branch continue to inspire generations of Chartered Accountants and scale even greater heights in the years ahead.

With my best wishes to the office-bearers and every member of the Branch for a meaningful and successful CA Day.

Warm regards and Jai Hind

Adv CA M. R. Venkatesh

The GST Decade:

Chartered Accountants at the Helm

CA Jatin Christopher

publication took shape in less than 6 weeks. Draft was socialized with a larger audience who promptly advised that the material be published by ICAI for discussion with the Government. The then Central and Regional Council members from Bangalore stood by the team which comprised of experienced senior Chartered Accountants and youngsters who brought their passion and commitment to the table assisting in making notes, compiling material from Central tax to State tax legislation and assisting with drafting suitable language through scores of iterations, until the draft recommendation began to take shape.

Revised Draft GST law was published in Nov 2016 that saw an even larger audience among members who set up study groups to take up study and publication of the workings of this new law. Everyone was keen to understand how this new law would work, concept of dual tax regime with inter-State credit transfer mechanism and online returns. Literally, hundreds of seminars, conferences and workshops sprung up in every branch from Udupi to Ballari and Mysuru to Belagavi. It was a time when no one had experience in this new law, and Resource Persons were wrestling with dissimilarities first and then illustrating with what was already familiar under the (soon-to-be) earlier tax regime.

Constitution 122nd Amendment Bill was introduced, 2014 had been introduced on 19 Dec 2014, passed on 6 May 2015 in Lok Sabha. Rajya Sabha referred the bill to a committee on 14 May 2015 which returned with its comments on 22 Jul 2015. Rajya Sabha passed the bill on 3 Aug 2016 and sent amended bill to Lok Sabha which was passed on 8 Aug 2016 as the Constitution 101st Amendment Act, 2016. This legislative journey ties into the visible public deliberations that started in Jun 2016 where new Constitutional body – GST Council – was noted for the first time. In the Council, every State and UT had the same vote, and Union held a third of the votes. Based on unanimous

Whenever a brand-new legislation is promulgated that entails intricate technology-dependent reporting and compliance of information extracted from financial records, it has never been a far cry for Chartered Accountants to step up and shoulder this responsibility to see that all stakeholders rise to meet expectations of the Regulator. Right when Draft GST law was made public in Jun 2016, Chartered Accountants launched themselves into the deep end into the study of this law, drawing parallels with current indirect tax jurisprudence and calling out deliberate departure based on the draft law. Study groups were swiftly constituted to undertake this deep study to list out capacity building measures for ICAI and representations to the Government.

It is noteworthy that ICAI Bangalore led the initiative to draft transition provisions to find a place in the new GST legislation to enable flow of credit from the current tax regime into GST. ICAI, New Delhi published a book with these suggestions, which was welcomed by Officers entrusted with public engagement and internal deliberations with those engaged in drafting the final law. Bangalore Branch of ICAI hosted a team that met almost everyday with notes from previous meeting and points for deliberation in current meeting, until the draft recommendations with (late) Shri Arun Jaitley leading consensus building about a myriad of legislations that came to be passed in Parliament:

- a) Central GST Act
- b) UT GST Act (for those UTs that do not have a Legislature)
- c) GST (Compensation to States) Act

And States allowed to swiftly convene Vidhana Sabha sessions to enact respective State GST Act. All legislations were in place, with effective date 'to be notified' in which the work put in at Bangalore Branch found a place in Chapter XX on "Transitional Provisions".

With such a remarkable construct of GST law, there was a crying need for awareness building and knowledge dissemination among Chartered Accountants that structured training sessions were rolled out. Central and State Governments took note of the progress made in capacity building that Chartered Accountants from Bangalore were invited to as Resource Persons at NACIN, Government of India and Fiscal Policy Institute, Government of Karnataka which are the premier Government training bodies for Officers. This invitation was treated as a privilege to disseminate correct information and a reliable appreciation of the nuances of trade in different sectors to help navigate and arrive at the correct treatment of law.

Whether attestation by annual returns is mandatory or not, Chartered Accountants have continued to selflessly validate data reported by taxpayers. Interdependence of all commercial and trade legislations for reliable quality of data cannot be overlooked and today, GST has paved the way for lenders, investors and other stakeholders to call for GST data to validate past performance. There are yet modules such as credit rating that can refine the quality of compliance ecosystem that each taxpayer operates in, and the development of tools around the technology backbone of GST is ready to publish continuous scores of each taxpayer. Revenues correctly reported adds to quality of India's performance standing in the world stage. And Chartered Accountants have paved the way for quality data reporting, whether in the form of compliance support or auditing data reported.

Litigation is the price of any developing tax experience. And Government has not held back from issuing clarifications and, where needed, made amends in the law to resolve potential conflict. Given that GST is an amalgam of specious tax legislations, 'number of cases' is by no means a fair measure of the sophistication residing in this law. And the most insightful comment about this tax regime can be found the words of Apex Court where this law was said to be sui generis, that is, a law that is in a class of its own. And to guide trade in grasping the contours of this all-encompassing legislation, Chartered Accountants have been relentless.

As a multi-point tax system, GST demands accounting hygiene on both inward and outward supplies, each with its own dependencies on machinery provisions of classification, time and place of supply and valuation. Financial accounting being the recording of contemporaneous transactions is somewhat out of alignment with the strict machinery that is in force, that harmonizing source data requires understanding objectives and requirements of different stakeholders. Attestation would add the layer of reliability but even without it, Chartered Accountants have helped harmonize the differences to meet requirements of all stakeholders.

As GST turns 10, it stands on the threshold of implementation of Appellate Tribunal which is the final fact-finding forum. And finding on facts requires deep insight into the data that resides in financial statements, interpretation of that data to arrive at tax positions within the mandate in this law and discharging this incidence within the intricate weave of set-off that is allowed. Chartered Accountants have once again readied themselves to accept the challenge that dispute resolution demands at this final forum. Chartered Accountants have been contributing to every aspect of GST to see that the role that the Nation needs us to play and be the 'ones that are awake while the world is at rest' as we rededicate ourselves to the service of this profession as we step into the next decade of GST.

THE GARUDA'S FLIGHT

Tracing the Evolution of The Chartered Accountancy Profession (1950–2026)

CA B. P. RAO
Past President, ICAI (1994-95)

As I sit down to pen these reflections for the 1st July 2026 edition of Newsletter of the Bengaluru Branch, my mind inevitably traverses a span of over seven decades. Today, as the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) celebrates its 77th Foundation Day, we stand at a fascinating vantage point.

When I was entrusted with the Presidency of this great institution in 1994-1995, our nation was just waking up to the dawn of economic liberalization. The world was shrinking, and India was opening up. Today, as we navigate the complexities of 2026, India is a global economic powerhouse, and the Indian Chartered Accountant is a recognized leader on the world stage.

The transformation of our profession since the 1950s is not merely a chronicle of changing laws or advancing technologies; it is the story of our adaptability, our intellectual resilience, and our unwavering commitment to the public interest. We have transitioned from the era of manual ledgers to the age of Artificial Intelligence, from local statutory auditors to global strategic business partners.

As we look back to look forward, it is worth examining this extraordinary journey through the epochs that defined us.

The Formative Decades (1950s – 1980s): The Bedrock of Trust

In the early decades following the establishment of the ICAI in 1949, the profession operated in a vastly different ecosystem. The Indian economy was highly regulated, characterized by the “License Raj,” closed borders, and a conservative approach to capital. I entered the profession in August 1976, and I am completing my 50 years standing in the profession.

The Pen-and-Paper Era: The physical reality of our profession was defined by heavy bound ledgers, vouching with red and green ink pens, and manual adding machines. A physical audit meant spending weeks, sometimes months, in a client’s dusty record room.

The Traditional Guardian: The CA was viewed almost exclusively as a strict, conservative guardian of financial propriety. Our primary domains were statutory audit, basic book-keeping, and tax compliance.

Building the Foundation: Despite the lack of technology, this era was crucial. It was here that the foundational pillars of the Indian CA—unimpeachable integrity, rigorous work ethic, and deep technical knowledge—were cemented in the public consciousness. We built a reputation so formidable that the signature of an Indian CA became synonymous with absolute financial truth.

The 1990s: Liberalization and a Paradigm Shift

I look back at the 1990s with immense personal fondness and professional pride. The historic economic reforms of 1991 had just begun reshaping the Indian landscape. By the time I assumed the role of ICAI President in 1994, the winds of change had become a gale.

From Auditors to Advisors: The influx of foreign capital, the rise of joint ventures, and the birth of the IT services boom expanded the CA's role overnight. Indian businesses needed help navigating global waters, complex foreign exchange regulations (FEMA replacing FERA), mergers, and acquisitions. We were no longer just doing “post-mortem” audits of historical data; we were advising on future growth.

The Dawn of Computerization: It was during this decade that the profession began its digital pivot. I vividly recall the efforts we made at the Council level to push for widespread IT training for our members. The transition from manual accounting to software like Tally and early ERPs was met with initial hesitation, but it ultimately freed our minds from mundane calculations, allowing us to focus on analytical reasoning.

The 2000s & 2010s: The Regulatory and Digital Renaissance

As we crossed into the new millennium, the pace of transformation accelerated exponentially. The Indian economy was booming, and the regulatory environment was modernizing rapidly to keep pace with global standards.

Technological Leapfrogging: The profession embraced complete digitization. The Ministry of Corporate Affairs launched MCA21, making electronic filing the norm. Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) systems like SAP and Oracle meant that auditors had to transition from physical sampling to auditing “through the computer.”

Global Convergence: The transition to Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS), converged with IFRS, was a watershed moment. It placed Indian financial reporting on par with the developed world, ensuring that our balance sheets spoke a universal language.

The GST Revolution: The implementation of the Goods and Services Tax (GST) in 2017 was perhaps the most significant tax reform in independent India's history. CAs were the architects of this transition on the ground, handholding millions of MSMEs and large corporates alike through a complex technological and compliance maze.

Specialization: This era marked the end of the “generalist.” The complexity of business demanded specialists in Transfer Pricing, International Taxation, Forensic Auditing, and Valuations.

The Current Epoch (2020s – 2026): AI, ESG, and Borderless Practice

Today, in 2026, we are living in a reality that would have sounded like science fiction during my presidency. The modern CA is a completely different professional avatar, operating at the intersection of finance, technology, and sustainability.

Artificial Intelligence and Automation: Routine tasks—data entry, basic reconciliation, and standard compliance drafting—are now largely handled by AI, Robotic Process Automation (RPA), and smart contracts. However, rather than replacing us, AI has augmented our capabilities. The modern auditor uses predictive data analytics to identify anomalies in millions of transactions in seconds, applying human judgment only where it matters most.

Sustainability and ESG: Financial capital is no longer the sole metric of a company's worth. Natural and social capital are equally critical. Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) reporting, driven by frameworks like BRSR (Business Responsibility and Sustainability Reporting), has made CAs the new auditors of carbon footprints, diversity metrics, and corporate sustainability.

Global Mobility: With Mutual Recognition Agreements (MRAs) spanning the globe, the Indian CA is no longer confined by geography. We are running borderless practices, providing outsourced CFO services, and leading multinational boards from our desks in Mumbai, Bengaluru, or Tier-2 cities across India.

The New Curriculum: The recently implemented scheme of education and training perfectly encapsulates this shift. By focusing heavily on multidisciplinary case studies, strategic management, and AI integration, the ICAI is ensuring that the CAs of tomorrow are business leaders first and compliance officers second.

The Enduring Core: What Remains Unchanged

While it is tempting to marvel purely at how much has changed since 1950,

I believe the true strength of our profession lies in what has not changed.

The tools have evolved from the abacus to AI algorithms. The canvas has expanded from local firms to global conglomerates. Yet, the soul of the Chartered Accountant remains exactly as it was envisioned by our founding fathers in 1949.

- 1. Professional Skepticism: No AI can replicate the intuitive “gut feeling” and professional skepticism of a well-trained CA when a transaction simply doesn't look right.
- 2. Absolute Independence: As the complexity of corporate structures grows, our independence remains the only bridge of trust between the management and the stakeholders.
- 3. Lifelong Learning: The sheer volume of regulatory updates ensures that a CA is perpetually a student. Our ability to unlearn and relearn is our greatest asset.

Our motto — Ya Aeshu Suptaeshu Jagruti (A person who is awake in those that sleep) — is more relevant today than ever before. In a world of deepfakes, algorithmic biases, and complex financial engineering, the CA remains the awake and vigilant guardian of economic truth.

Passing the Baton

To the young members reading this today: you are entering the profession at its most exciting juncture. The heavy lifting of building the ICAI's global brand has been done by the generations before you. Your mandate is different.

You must embrace technology not as a threat, but as a lever. You must broaden your horizons beyond just tax and audit, venturing into strategy, sustainability, and technological governance. But above all, you must fiercely guard the integrity that makes those two letters—CA—so deeply respected.

As I reflect on the incredible flight of the Garuda over the last 77 years, my heart swells with pride. We have not just survived the transformations of the last seven decades; we have led them. And looking at the brilliant young minds entering our fraternity today, I am certain our brightest days are still ahead.

Happy Chartered Accountants Day.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation of these financial statements in accordance with the Chartered Accountants Act, 1949 ("the Act") that give a true and fair view of the state of affairs, financial performance and the cash flows of the Branch in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Accounting Standards issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records for safeguarding of the assets of the Institute and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the management is responsible for assessing the Institute's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the management either intends to liquidate the Institute or to ease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The management is responsible for overseeing the Institute's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Institute's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Institute's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Institute to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effort of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with the management regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide the management with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.
